CLOSING REMARKS

Chancellor and Dean Frank H. Wu

Please remain seated until the graduates have exited the auditorium.

Greetings from Chancellor and Dean Frank H. Wu

I feel especially close to the Class of 2013, because we started together three years ago. While you are graduating on this wonderful occasion, you will always have a relationship to UC Hastings.

When we met, I asked you to look to your left and to look to your right. The deans mythologized in our institutional lore supposedly followed that instruction with the prediction that by the following year one of you, or even two of you, would no longer be here. You may recall that my message was different: these are your future colleagues and clients, the judges before whom you will appear, lifelong friends, and, perhaps, your spouse or partner.

I know that the legal marketplace has been challenging and is likely to continue changing for the rest of our careers. Yet you have received your education from the most renowned professors, known for their engaged scholarship as well as their excellent teaching. You have had opportunities for clinical experience, international exchange, and interdisciplinary training.

For this reason, I have every confidence in you. Everything about our democratic society, from the enforcement of contracts to the protection of civil rights, depends on the rule of law. The rule of law in turn is made possible only through the actions of lawyers who represent clients and judges who are independent. Our service profession solves problems and provides leadership.

As you assume the responsibilities of an advocate and a counselor, I trust you will remember that we remain your mentors. Throughout the Socratic dialogue, the final exams, the research papers, the moot court competitions, and the extracurricular student group activities, the faculty and the staff of your law school have helped you achieve success. I wish you farewell, remaining here on our campus as a steward of the investment you made in this great institution.

Best wishes.

Frank H. Wu

JUDGE EDWARD J. DAVILA

Judge Edward J. Davila was born in Palo Alto and grew up in Mountain View, California. He graduated from San Diego State University in 1976 with a Bachelor of Arts in Political Science. He then attended Hastings College of the Law and received his Juris Doctor in 1979. He joined the Santa Clara County Office of the Public Defender upon his graduation where he served as a Deputy from 1981 to 1989, representing the indigent accused. In 1988 he established the criminal defense firm of Davila & Polverino.

As an attorney, Judge Davila participated actively in legal and community affairs. He served as a member of the Santa Clara County Bar Association Board of Trustees from 1986 to 1994, President of the Barristers Club in 1989, Chair of the Judiciary Committee in 1989, Chair of the Minority Access Committee in 1993, and was elected President of the Bar Association in 1998. An active member of the La Raza Lawyers Association of Santa Clara County since 1982, he served as President of that organization in 1989 and 1996.

In 2001, Judge Davila was appointed by Governor Gray Davis to Santa Clara County Superior Court where he served as a trial judge in criminal, juvenile justice and family law cases. In 2010, Senator Barbara Boxer recommended Judge Davila to the White House and President Barack Obama nominated him to the United States District Court. The Senate Judiciary Committee voted unanimously to forward his name to the United States Senate. He was confirmed by a unanimous vote of the United States Senate on February 14, 2011, and received his commission on March 3, 2011. He is the second Latino to sit in the Northern District of California, and the first for over twenty years.

Recognized throughout the legal community for his efforts to provide access to justice for all persons, Judge Davila received the Social Justice and Human Rights Award from Santa Clara University School of Law in 2010. He was honored with the Justice Baryl Saltsman Award in 2006 by the Santa Clara County Bar Association. In 2003, the Latino Chapter of Hastings College of the Law Alumni Association recognized him as the Ralph Santiago Abascal Alumnus of the Year. He also received the Unsung Heroes Award from the Santa Clara County Bar Association that year, and was recognized by the California State Assembly for his efforts to recruit minorities to the practice of law. In 1999, Judge Davila was recognized by the Pro Bono Project for supporting legal representation for the indigent. The Hispanic Business Magazine named him as one of the 100 most influential Latinos in the United States in October, 2011.

As a judge in the San Jose Division of the United States District Court, Judge Davila presides over a wide variety of cases, from patent and intellectual property disputes, to criminal matters, class action lawsuits, and constitutional challenges.

Pro Bono Recognition

The California Bar and the American Bar Association encourage attorneys to devote at least 50 hours annually to the provision of pro bono (free) legal services. At UC Hastings, we believe the delivery of pro bono services is an integral part of legal education and the practice of law. Therefore, graduates engaged in pro bono are recognized with the following distinctions.

Pro Bono Society

Graduate met the UC Hastings goal for the provision of pro bono legal services.

Caps and Gowns

In medieval cities, the everyday dress of many citizens was similar to that worn by the participants in this commencement ceremony. The costumes of the medieval guilds and early religious orders evolved into academic garb in the 12th and 13th centuries when universities were first taking form. Different degrees are symbolized by slight variances in the color and design of gowns and hoods. The three degrees being conferred today adhere to this academic tradition.

The original purpose of the gown was to provide warmth in unheated buildings. The design indicates the degree earned. The gown for the master's degrees (LL.M. and M.S.L.) is untrimmed and has an oblong sleeve. The gown for the doctoral degree (J.D.) is trimmed in velvet with three bars across the sleeves and facing down the front; it has a bell-shaped sleeve.

The hood traditionally served as a cover for the tonsured head and indicates the subject matter of the degree and the faculty from which it was awarded. During the ceremony, the hood is placed on the graduate to recognize the academic accomplishment and to welcome the graduate into the society of professionals. At UC Hastings, hoods are lined with a blue chevron on a gold ground to represent the University colors. The color of the velvet edging on the hoods represents the subject in which the degree is earned: for law, the color is purple. The tassel is placed on the left side of the cap, which indicates an advanced degree.

The Mace

Traditionally at UC Hastings, the Associate Academic Dean carries the mace and leads the academic procession at commencement. Historically, the mace was seen as an image of warlike battle. Centuries ago, kings began to change this image by replacing spikes with precious gems and jewels to use the mace in ceremonies as a symbol of peace and leadership. Today, the mace is used in ceremonies as a symbol of authority.

UC Hastings proudly displays a mace which was donated by the Class of 2005. The mace was designed to reflect the history, goals and ideals of UC Hastings. The finial at the top points to the Way to the Future. The three rings, or beads, around the finial represent Mind, Reason, and Intellect. The large ball holds the medallion, a symbol of UC Hastings itself. The first bead under the medallion symbolizes UC Hastings as the oldest law school in California. The two beads below represent Morality and Professional Honor. The three beads around the top part of the shaft represent the Vision of the Founders, the Hopes of the Professors, and the Desires of the Students. The body of the mace represents that which is conveyed in the Present. The pointed tail of the mace represents that which was gained from the Past. The mace itself is made from California redwood.
